MCL 404™

Helps support healthy immune function.

build & maintain a strong immune system

immune support

Our immune systems are under unprecedented attack from environmental sources such as pollution and new germ strains, to lifestyles issues such as diet and stress. Health care professionals agree that to enjoy optimal health a priority must be placed on supporting and maintaining a strong immune system.

MCL 404 a patented, proprietary breakthrough

MCL stands for its primary ingredients; Mushroom, Colostrum, Lo Han and Lotus, a formula designed to build and maintain a strong immune response. MCL consists of two of the most researched medicinal mushrooms, Maitake and Shiitake, plus Whole Food Colostrum, Brown Rice Bran, Lo Han Kuo (a nutrient dense Chinese fruit) and the patented repair enzyme from Sacred Lotus Seed Complex. MaitakeGold 404 is a patented mushroom extract that has received substantiation as prescribed by the Dietary Supplement Health and Education Act (DSHEA) for the following statements of nutritional support:

- Helps support healthy immune function.
- Helps support general health and well-being.
- Helps support cellular defenses.
- Promotes healthy immune function and cellular health.
- Helps support the body's immune defense.
- Patented beta glucan supplement to enhance immune function.
- Patented beta glucan immune support supplement.

How do you know your product works?

NaturScience is provided with proof of in-vivo immune activity analysis conducted at the University of Louisville for each lot of MaitakeGold 404®. An ImmuneActive™ Certificate, along with ImmuneActive™ seal will provide proof for you that "MCL 404" containing MaitakeGold 404® will actually work. In fact, MaitakeGold 404® is being used exclusively in a three year, multi-phase U.S. Government funded study, for which it has received an Investigational New Drug Number (IND) from the FDA.
